The rights and remedies reserved for Purchaser in each Order, including, the rights of entry, reclaiming claiming and inspection under Section 22, shall be cumulative with, and additional to, all other or further remedies provided in law. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, if any of the goods failed to conform to the warranties set forth herein or should Seller or any Goods provided by Seller fail to meet any of the conditions of a First Class Supplier under Section 6, Purchaser shall notify Seller and Seller shall, if requested by Purchaser, reimburse Purchaser for any damages, including loss of profits caused by nonconforming Goods. This includes costs, expenses and losses incurred by Purchaser (a) in inspecting, sorting, testing, repairing or replacing such nonconforming Goods; (b) resulting from production interruptions, (c) in conducting Remedial Actions, and (d) in connection with claims for personal injury (including death) or property damage caused by such nonconforming Goods. If requested by Purchaser, Seller shall, without charges to Purchaser, administer and process warranty charge-backs for nonconforming Goods in accordance with Purchaser’s directions. Seller acknowledges and agrees that money damages would not be a sufficient remedy for any actual or threatened breach of any Order by Seller with respect to its delivery of Goods to Purchaser and that, in addition to all other rights and remedies which Purchaser may have, Purchaser shall be entitled to specific performance and temporary, preliminary and permanent injunctive as a remedy for any such breach, without proof of actual damages and without bond or other security being required.

B. In addition, notwithstanding the foregoing, Seller acknowledges that shutting down Customer’s plant creates issues for which money damages are not a sufficient remedy. While the cost of a plant shutdown may easily generate substantial costs, the damages to Purchaser's relationship with Purchaser’s Customer through potential loss of business, and other damages which are equally difficult to calculate, are worst. Because of these risks, in the event of a breach or threatened breach by Seller warranties or covenants (including any commitment related to being a World Class Supplier), Purchaser may, with a prior notice to Seller, resource the production of Goods from Seller to another supplier or dual source of any of the Goods covered (have another supplier produce or be prepared to produce Goods being produced by Seller), to protect Purchaser and its Customers. This process of moving business may take a considerable amount of time and Seller understands that, given the risks by the possible shutdown of Purchaser’s Customer, Purchaser is justified in initiating and transferring business immediately after prior notice is sent to Seller.

C. Seller understands that the resourcing of business during a program, while is something not desirable, it’s part of the automotive business and is an accepted risk from this industry that Seller’s knows. Even the risk of Seller’s financial or operational uncertainty, in light of the huge risks to Purchaser and Purchaser's Customer, is an example of a justified reason to move production, without notice, and that any incidental or related activity by Purchaser is understandable and reasonable.

D. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in any Order, Purchaser does not release any claim against Seller that is based in whole or in part of any fraud or duress in connection with the Order or any breach or anticipatory breach of the Order or any other Order between Purchaser and Seller (even if Order is related with other products).

17. Cancellation.

A. Purchaser's Right to cancel because of Breach. Purchaser reserves the right to cancel immediately all or any part of each Order, without any liability of Purchaser to Seller if Seller: (i) repudiates, breaches or threatens to breach any of the terms of the Order including, Seller's warranties and First Class Supplier quality provisions; (ii) fails to perform or deliver Goods as specified by Purchaser; or (iii) fails to provide Purchaser with adequate and reasonable assurance of Seller's ability to perform timely any of Seller's obligations under any Order, including, without limitation, delivery of Goods; or if Purchaser cancelled because of breach any other Order issued to Seller in accordance with the terms of such Order (whether or not such other Order is related to the other Order).

(3) Upon termination of any Order by Purchaser under this Section 17.B, Purchaser shall pay to Seller only following amounts: (i) the Order price for all finished and completed Goods that conform requirements of the Order and were not previously paid for; (ii) Seller's reasonable actual cost of the usable and merchantable work in process and raw materials/components transferred to Purchaser in accordance with subsection B(2)(ii) hereof; (iii) Seller's reasonable actual cost of settling claims for the Seller obligations would have had to the subcontractors approved by Purchaser on the face of an Order or Order amendment or in a Signed Letter by Supplier Purchasing Vice president in the absence of termination, and (iv) Seller's reasonable actual cost of carrying out its obligations under subsections B(2)(iv) and (2)(v). Purchaser shall not be liable for and shall not be required to make payments to Seller, directly or on account of claims by Seller's subcontractors, for any other alleged losses or costs, whether denominated as loss of anticipated profit, unabsorbed overhead, interest on claims, product development and engineering costs, facilities and equipment rearrangement costs or rental, unamortized depreciation costs, general and administrative burden charges resulting from cancelling Order or otherwise. Above mentioned "quantity of pieces that it includes six weeks" will be calculated using the Orders of the Buyer of six weeks immediately previous to the notification of completion sent to the Seller without including any temporary interruption, the paralyze industrial or of factory or other limited chronograms.

(3) The Seller shall return to Purchaser all goods in guarantee (as they are defined in the Section 20) and any other property that the Purchaser has provided or that it belongs or any good that is Purchaser customer property in same condition in which Seller received them, with exception of the natural wear produced by the course of the time and the normal use of the goods.

Purchaser and Seller agree that “Reasonable Obsolescence” only means the following amounts: (i) the Order price for all finished and completed Goods that conform to the requirements of the Order and not previously paid for; (ii) Seller's reasonable actual cost of the usable and merchantable work in process and raw materials/components transferred to Purchaser in accordance with the cancelling and are covered by outstanding firm Releases from Purchaser; and (iii) Seller's reasonable actual cost of settling claims for the obligations Seller would have had to the subcontractors approved in a Signed Letter by Supplier Purchasing Vice President in the absence of cancelling limited to the amount of the firm quantities of Goods and raw materials/components specified in Releases issued by Purchaser that are currently outstanding. Purchaser shall not be responsible for and shall not be required Seller to pay, directly or on account of claims by Seller's subcontractors, for any other alleged losses or costs, whether denominated as loss of anticipated profit, recoupment of investment, unabsorbed overhead, interest on claims, product development and engineering costs, facilities and equipment rearrangement costs or rental, unamortized depreciation costs, general and administrative burden charges resulting from ending of the Order or otherwise. Despite of anything to the contrary, Purchaser's obligation to Seller upon cancelling of any Order shall not exceed the obligation Purchaser would have had to Seller in the absence of cancelling of such Order.
19. Assignment. Seller shall not assign or delegate any of its duties or obligations under any Order without the prior consent of Purchaser on the face of an Order or Order amendment or in a Signed Letter by Supplier Purchasing Vice president, which consent may be withheld in Purchaser’s sole discretion. Seller may assign its claims for money under any Order as collateral security for indebtedness of Seller, but Purchaser shall not be required to pay the assignee until Purchaser receives letter notice of the assignment, a true copy of the assignment and a release from Seller reasonably acceptable for Purchaser. Any such assignment shall not prohibit Purchaser from enforcing its rights against Seller or the assignee, including, Purchaser’s rights to set off and recoupment under Section 34, all of which rights of Purchaser against Seller or assignee are senior to any rights of such assignee. Purchaser may freely assign to any third party its rights and obligations under any Order without the consent of Seller.
